

Tour #267: Die Rhön ist schööön!

Sa., 07. Juli 2018

Treffpunkt: 10:00 Uhr HEM Tankstelle, Lützelhäuser Weg 13, 63571 Gelnhausen

Everyone should start with a full tank for the bike and an empty bladder for yourselves. Yes, you read that right. We are not meeting at the Tamoil. At some point it changed its name. Plug the address into your navi and you'll have no problems.

From there, we will head out on a wild and curvy tour through a little bit of the Spessart and into the Rhön. We will first head towards „high sense“ (Obersinn) but will veer off towards „sense valley“ (Sinntal). Valleys are usually good for some curvy roads, so we will drive around there for a while as we make our way around „crazy spot“ (Wildflecken). Lunch will be in Tränkhof, and judging by the reaction from a 2004 Rhön tour, this is a good choice.

After lunch, we will over hill and over dale visiting such well known villages as Batten, Ehrenberg and Fladungen. After a short drive on the Franzosenweg we double-back on the high Rhön street on our the way to cake. Cake will be at the Kloster Kreuzberg. I hear the cake is heavenly.

After gathering sugar, like bees gather pollen, we are off on our way to Sandberg and Burkardroth. I could not help myself. We go back again „around“ Wildflecken as we make our way towards the Parking Place at Bad Soden - Salmünster. There we will say our goodbyes, hug each other and maybe shed a tear. Like the ending of so many movies.
